Weather of Nainital

Weather of Nainital during the conference (March-April) will be very pleasant and enjoyable due to average day and night temperature range from 10-20°C and 05-15°C, respectively.

About The Nainital

Nainital, the charming Himalayan lake town, is a picture-postcard perfect hill-station and one of the most popular in Northern India. Commonly known as the 'Lake District', Nainital is nestled high up in the Kumaon Himalayas at an altitude of around 2,000 m above sea level. This beautiful town is surrounded by seven hills, popularly known as 'Sapta-Shring'-Ayarpata, Deopata, Handi-Bandi, Naina, Alma, Lariya-Kanta and Sher-Ka-Danda. The majestic mountains and the sparkling waters of the lake add an immense lot to the beauty of the town. The town is centred around the emerald mountain lake Naini, which on most days is dotted with colourful sailboats. According to mythology, the lake is believed to have been formed when the eyes of goddess "Sati" fell at this spot while her body was being carried by Lord Shiva after her death.

About The Kumaun University, Nainital, Uttarakhand, India

Kumaun University, A residential-cum-affiliating university, came into existence in the year 1973 by notification no. (10)/8651/15/75(85)/64 dated 23 November, 1973 under the act no. 10 of state legislature (U.P. State Universities Act, 1973 now adopted by Uttarakhand State) with the merger of Two Government Colleges, D.S.B. Government P.G. College, Nainital and Almora Government P.G. College, Almora. These constituent colleges were later elevated to the status of university campuses by government order no. e-1861/GS dated 14/15 March, 1994. The academic wing of the University is spread over in three campuses (D.S.B. Campus, Nainital, SSJ Campus, Almora and newly constructed Campus at Bhimtal) with an area of 5,31,373 sq.mt. (160 acres), featuring state-of-the-art facilities to the affiliations of 20 government colleges, 61 private institutions, and a government-aided college, the university supports around 1,50,000 students, making it Uttarakhand's largest. Over the past three years, the university has focused on establishing recognized departments for both scientific and social research. This initiative has garnered attention from faculty members and students countrywide. Pre-Uttarakhand state formation, Kumaun University set benchmarks for state universities in terms of academic rigor, student discipline, resource generation, and maintaining a conducive learning environment. Such standards earned the university an 'A' Grade accreditation from the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) in 2015. Offering a rich tapestry of courses, Kumaun University boasts eight faculties encompassing diverse fields from Arts, Sciences, Commerce, Management, Education, Law, Technology, to Visual Arts. Furthermore, the university pioneers several self-finance courses, ensuring flexibility and inclusivity.

About the Agro Environment Development Society (AEDS)

The Agro Environmental Development Society (AEDS) is an agricultural research organization, registered under the society registration act 21, 1960 and the NITI Aayog Gov. of India, dedicated to promoting sustainable agricultural practices and fostering environmental conservation. AEDS has since become a leading force in rural development, working tirelessly to uplift the lives of farmers and rural communities while safeguarding the delicate balance of the environment. One of the primary objectives of AEDS is to empower farmers by providing them with the necessary knowledge and resources to adopt sustainable agricultural practices. Through workshops, training sessions, and field demonstrations, AEDS educates farmers about the latest advancements in agricultural techniques, such as organic farming, integrated pest management, and water-efficient irrigation methods. By encouraging the use of eco-friendly alternatives to conventional farming practices, the organization aims to improve crop yields, reduce production costs, and enhance the overall livelihoods of farmers. The AEDS is also committed to explore the scientific development across the world and has taken initiative to provide a platform to the scientists, researcher, policy makers and scholars to solve and discuss various issues relating to agricultural and environmental development. AEDS had organized first international conference at Sam Higginbottom University of Agriculture, Technology and Sciences, Allahabad, Uttar Pradesh, India in association with Pondicherry Institute of Agricultural Sciences (PIAS), Pondicherry and Centre for Environment & Agricultural Development (CEAD), Pondicherry on November 27-29, 2018 and became a great success with an impressive turnout of around 600 participants from all around the country along with the foreign delegates. The 2nd International Conference was held at Dr. Y.S. Parmar University of Horticulture and Forestry, Solan, Himachal Pradesh on September 27-29, 2019. On this occasion, nearly 800 participants (Scientists, Academicians, Industries Person and Students) were participated globally. The AEDS also conducted various International Conference via virtual mode in collaboration with National and International universities during the global pandemic of COVID-19. In the previous years, the society organized various 21 days National Training Course in collaboration with Central Sericultural Research & Training Institute (CSRTI), Mysore, National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD), Rajmata Vijayaraje Scindia Krishi Vishwa Vidyalaya, Gwalior (Madhya Pradesh), College of Horticulture and Forestry, Central Agricultural University Pasighat-Arunachal Pradesh and Sher-e-Kashmir University of Agricultural Sciences and Technology of Jammu. The most commendable International Conference has been organized recently by the AEDS in joint collaboration with Department & Directorate of Extension Education Uttar Banga Krishi Vishwavidyalaya, Pundibari, West Bengal, ICAR- National Agricultural Higher Education Project (NAHEP) at Kalimpong Science Centre, Deolo, Darjeeling, W.B. Furthermore, the Society continuously working for the welfare of rural and land less community of the country and also making people aware for sustainable and profitable agriculture.

About the 9th International Conference (CAABASSD-2024)

The Impact of climate change affect farmers' ability to grow the food we all need. Increasingly volatile weather and more extreme events-like floods and droughts-change growing seasons, limit the availability of water, allow weeds, pests and fungi to thrive, and can reduce crop productivity. Sustainable development is a fundamental principle for meeting human development goals while at the same time sustaining the ability of natural systems to provide the natural resources and ecosystem services upon which the economy and society depend. The challenges associated with environmental sustainability make it essential to bring together the disciplines of the agricultural, and biological sciences to address the today's environmental challenges for sustainable development. This conference will also bring out the significance of the biological science and forests for sustainable development and food security as forests support sustainable agriculture by stabilizing soils and climate, regulating water flow, providing shade and shelter and providing a habitat for pollinators and natural predators of agricultural pests and when integrated judiciously into agricultural and scapes, trees can increase agricultural productivity. The broad scope of sustainable development suggests that virtually any social, economic or environmental process or challenge amenable to scientific understanding may potentially be relevant. Emergence, meanwhile, could signify the novelty or intensification of some of those issues, fresh understanding of their causes or consequences, the development of new management options, or the identification of issues that have gone previously unrecognized. Therefore, the present international conference “Current Approaches in Agricultural, Biological & Applied Sciences for Sustainable Development(CAABASSD)” provides a forum to discuss such emerging issues and advances in the areas of agriculture, biological & applied science to promote the sustainable development of our society. The international conference will be a best amalgamation of eminent scientists, researchers, scholars, and students who will share the latest research & technology in the relevant fields to promote the sustainable development.

Abstract

The study related to the effects of rice husk biochar (RHB) application on soil microbial aspects and paddy productivity in field condition is scarce. Therefore, present study provides fresh insight into the effects of RHB on rice production in field conditions, with some updated information on soil microbial aspects. To study the impact of RHB and CSR-BIO (commercialized bio-formulation), on soil physico-chemical properties, soil microbial biomass (SMB) quantity and paddy productivity, four treatments were set up: control, RHB, CSR-BIO and RHB+CSR-BIO. The RHB with CSR-BIO both the amendments were applied at a rate of 10 t ha⁻¹. Across treatments, the water holding capacity, total -C, -N, -P concentrations and soil moisture content were statistically higher in RHB and CSR-BIO treated soils over the control. The highest SMB-C, -N and -P (408.66 ± 0.57, 83.33 ± 2.08 and 25.66 ± 1.52 µg g⁻¹ dry soil, respectively) was recorded in RHB+CSR-BIO treated soil. Across the sampling dates, SMB-C, -N, -P and inorganic-N (ammonium- and nitrate-N) concentrations were minimum on 35 day after transplantation (DAT) (tillering stage-active growth period), and maximum on 105 DAT (maturity stage). The paddy plant growth variables (panicle length, tiller number, rice grain and paddy straw yields) were found higher in treated plots compared to untreated (control) plots, and varied significantly (P ≤ 0.001) due to treatments. Among the various selected paddy agronomic variables, the application of RHB and CSR-BIO treatment was more pronounced to the yield of rice grains. Results indicate that an increase in the quantity of SMB due to RHB+CSR-BIO addition, improves the soil nutrient status and hence, paddy productivity in nutrient poor agriculture soils. It is suggested that RHB generation from rice husk biochar could be a sustainable crop residues waste management option to enhance the nutrient status, microbial biomass and paddy productivity of disturbed agriculture soils.
